VOL. 6 — NO. 209 SATURDAY, AUGUST 25, 1979 209th PROGRAM

General Jai-Alai Information

Jai-Alai is the world's oldest known ball game — a game which, sports experts agree, requires more skill, speed, endurance and nerve than any other. Yet, despite its furious pace, Jai-Alai is easy to follow and understand.

The playing court (CANCHA) is 177 feet long, 55 feet wide and 55 feet high. The front playing wall, on your right, is called the FRONTIS; the side wall, facing you, is the LATERAL and the rear wall is the REBOTE. The front wall is made of solid granite blocks 12 inches thick, to withstand the repeated 150 mile-per-hour impact of the rock-hard ball (PELOTA). The rear and side walls are of gunite, a pressure-applied cement, and the floor is 12 solid inches of specially hardened concrete.

HOW JAI ALAI IS PLAYED

The object of jai-alai is simply to hurl the ball against the front wall with so much speed and spin that the opposing player will not be able to return it. The ball can touch the side wall, the back wall and/or the floor, & remains in play until it strikes the floor a second time. (Example: a player may choose to receive the ball in the air after it rebounds from the front wall, to snare it after the first bounce on the floor, or wait until it hits the rear wall & return it as a REBOTE shot.

Any ball is fair that strikes the surface of the front wall & bounces on the concrete floor. A ball is foul when it hits the screen above the court, the wooden floor, the cushions on the walls, the screen that protects the audience (unless it has hit the concrete floor first), & if the ball has touched a player or his clothing. Holding the ball is a foul and earns the opposing team a point. Interference means the point must be played over.

When the game begins, the player assigned the first position (or the team's front man, in the case of doubles) serves by bouncing the ball behind line 11 & throwing it so that it rebounds from the front wall to land on the floor between lines 4 & 7. (Other numbers are to aid players in judging distance & angle of various shots.)

Games are played on an elimination system. Teams or players play until they lose one point & retire to the end of the lineup for their next opportunity to score. Winning team continues to play each successive team until they lose a point, or win the game. The number of points per game varies.

The man at line 7 is the chief judge, & though each judge is responsible for calling fouls in his area of the court, the decision of the chief judge is final.

INTERFERENCE RULE

Interference will be called by any judge when a player is blocked from making a play for the ball by his opponent. If, in the judges' opinion, the player that was interferred with had no chance of reaching the ball, whether or not he was blocked, no interference will be called.

JUGGLING RULE

The juggling of the ball will not constitute a foul except in a case where the player holds the ball in the basket more than the required time, the required time to be decided by the judges.

A Convenience For Jai-Alai Patrons:
MGM's Jai-Alai Usherettes will purchase and/or cash mutuel tickets on a minimum of ten dollars in bets.

Patrons wishing to use MGM Jai-Alai "Bet - Runners" Service must place bet prior to the warning buzzer.

POINT SYSTEM—The number of points needed to win is shown on the huge scoreboard. Second and third places go to teams with next highest point totals. In case of ties, there is a playoff.

"For Playoff Rules See Page 27 of Program"

SPECTACULAR SEVEN POINT SYSTEM — In designated games of eight post positions (teams or single players) playing to seven points, one point is awarded for each point scored through the first round of play. As each post comes up after the first complete round, two points are awarded for each point scored. In other words, points double after the first round.

The serve known as "Two Wall" or "Carom Serve" is not allowed.

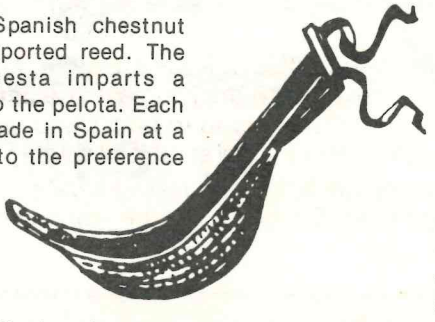
is made of thin Spanish chestnut woven with an imported reed. The ribbing of the cesta imparts a tremendous spin to the pelota. Each cesta is custom made in Spain at a cost of $85-$100, to the preference of each player.



The Pelota

is about three-fourths the size of a baseball, harder and livelier than a golf ball. Made of hand-wound virgin Brazilian de Para rubber, covered with linen and two layers of goatskin, they cost about $85 each.

What with some of the changes and absences that we have had lately, this column is going to be more of a news report than a commentary.

First of all, Mendez and Jayo have completed their contracts with MGM Jai Alai, and both will be playing next on the Orlando-Quincy circuit in Florida.

Mendez came up here from Tijuana in 1977 and was singles champion in '78, a feat he repeated this past season, tying for the honor with Aldecoa.

Jayo came here from Jacarta, Indonesia, after playing extensively in Spain. Jayo was always a heavyweight in our backcourt (pun intended). We wish both Mendez and Jayo well. Two new players will be arriving shortly to replace them on our MGM roster.

In the mishap department, Zaldua was out for several weeks with a cartilage problem in his knee. Fortunately, it healed without surgical treatment and Zaldua returned to the court last week.

Castor continues on the sidelines as the result of a collision with the screen that separates the players and the audience. The first diagnosis was torn ligaments which might require surgery, but the outlook now is that Castor, too, should be able to return to action after rest and therapy.

Ruben has been spending two weeks on the bench after a freak accident. He lunged for an errant cortada (a ball hit low and hard off the front wall) only to have the pelota strike him in the foot. A couple of days later, the intense pain was found to be caused by a broken toe. Ruben should be playing again this week. (You think jai alai isn't a tough game?)

And finally Elizburu was out for one day while his wife was having a baby. He now has two girls and no future jai alai players. Don't give up, Elizburu. Maybe you can come up with an all-girl baseball team.

You may make reservations for BOX SEATS or LOGE SEATING by calling, 739-4682, between the hours 12:30 P.M. & 7:00 P.M. Reserved seat tickets must be picked up by 7:15 P.M. POST TIME for the first game - 7:30 P.M.

HERE'S HOW YOU WAGER AT JAI ALAI

JAI ALAI WAGERING IS THE SAME AS WAGERING AT HORSE TRACKS, WITH SEVERAL INNOVATIONS.

WIN — You wager that a team (or player) will win the game. Tickets are $2 and $10.

PLACE — You wager that your team will finish at least second. Whether they finish first or second you receive the payoff shown alongside "Place" on the scoreboard. Tickets are $2 and $10.

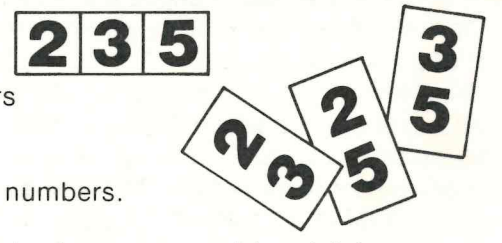
SHOW — You wager that your team will finish at least third. If they do, you receive the payoff alongside "Show". Tickets are $2 and $10.

QUINIELA — You pick two teams to finish first and second in either order. Regardless of which of your teams wins or is second, you receive the quiniela price. Tickets are $2 and $10. When asking for Quiniela tickets, be sure to call the smaller number first.

EXACTA — You pick two teams to finish first and second in that order, e.g.: If you pick teams 2 and 5, it means that two must win and five must come in second. Tickets are $5.

DAILY DOUBLE— You must pick the winner of the second and third game. Tickets are $2.

QUINIELA BOXING OR BASEBALLING — You increase your chances of winning by tying up all possible combinations of your numbers. For example, if you like numbers 2-3-5 and BOX them, you have three numbers tied up: 2-3, 2-5, 3-5. A win by any of these combinations gives you the quiniela. You may BOX any amount of numbers.



EXACTA BOXING OR BASEBALLING — Works the same as with quinielas.

WHEELING— In a quiniela or exacta wheel you tie up one team or player (post position) with all others in the game.

"WHEELING"

Please call for player or team by post position number.

THE PREVIOUS DAY'S MUTUEL TICKETS
MAY BE CASHED AT THE INFORMATION WINDOW ON THE CASINO'S UPPER BETTING LEVEL.

Here's the Game!

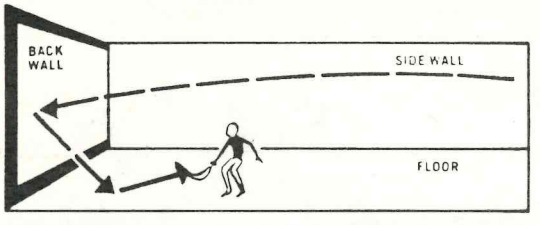
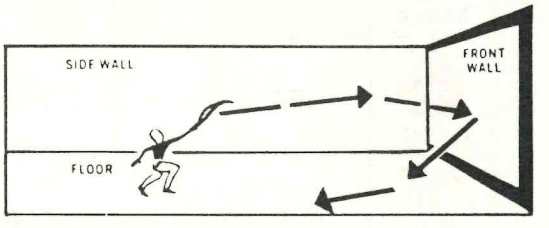
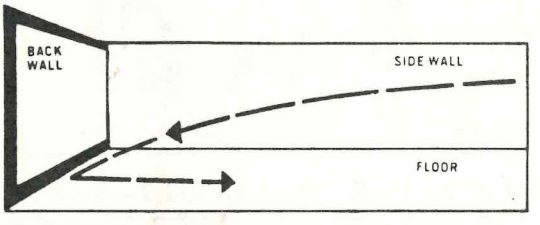
EXPLANATION OF MOST POPULAR JAI ALAI SHOTS



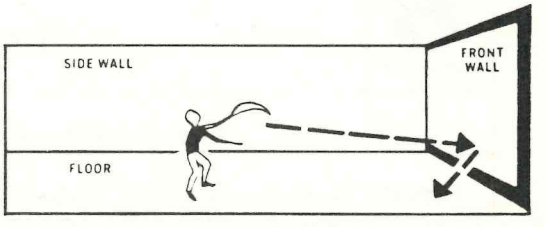
REBOTE-Returning the ball from the back wall with the forehand or backhand.



CAROM-A thrown ball that hits the side wall, the front wall, the court then goes into the screen.



CHULA-Ball hits the lower angle between the base of the back wall and the floor coming out without a bounce.



DEJADA-A short lob, hitting the front wall just above the foul line and dropping with a small bounce.

PLAYERS ARE GIVEN PRIZE MONEY FOR WINS, PLACES AND SHOWS, IN ADDITION TO THEIR REGULAR SALARY.

RULES GOVERNING PLAYOFFS IN A JAI-ALAI GAME

When a player or team reaches the designated number of points for the game, he is declared the winner. If at that time, another player or team has the next highest number of points, and a third player or team has the third highest number of points, and there are no ties for second or third place, the place and show positions will be awarded immediately and the game is over.

After a winner has been declared, playoff rules to decide Place and/or Show positions vary according to the NUMBER of players or teams tied. There are, however, two rules applicable at all times during playoffs:

1. Playoffs follow the teams or players ROTATING POSITION (the order in which they are seated on the waiting bench), not Post Position.

2. If, at any time during a playoff, a player or team reaches the designated number of points, said player or team is immediately awarded Place or Show position as the case may be, and the remaining players or teams forfeit the right of further play for said position.

IN CASE OF TWO TIED PLAYERS OR TEAMS:

a. For Place and Show Positions: Place position shall be awarded to the winner of the first point and Show position goes to the loser.

b. For Show Position only: Awarded to the winner of the first point played.

IN CASE OF THREE-WAY TIE FOR PLACE AND/OR SHOW POSITION

a. Place Position shall be awarded to the winner of two points (loser of the first point played is eliminated from further play for Place position). Show position goes to the winner of one point.

b. For Show Position only: Winner of two points takes Show position, first loser is eliminated from further play.

IN CASE OF FOUR-WAY OR SIX-WAY TIE FOR PLACE AND/OR SHOW POSITION:

The playoff shall be decided through eliminations. The first two participants will play the first point. The next two participants will play one point and the remaining participants (in the case of six ties) will play one point. Losers are eliminated and winners of the points will play additional point or points, under the rules governing two-way or three-way ties, as the case may be.

IN CASE OF FIVE-WAY OR SEVEN-WAY TIE FOR PLACE AND/OR SHOW POSITION:

When the remaining teams or players are tied without a point or with one point, the playoff shall be for one point less than the number of participants.

When they are tied at two or more points the playoff shall be for the full game's number of points following in these cases the Rotating Position.

MGM Jai-Alai Rotation Board

On the extreme left side of the tote board, you will notice a row of light boxes with the word "ROTATION" painted vertically alongside. These lighted numbers display the order in which each player or team will come up again after having been eliminated in the round-robin sequence used in jai alai. The order of rotation is updated after each point is scored, with the loser moving to the bottom of the row. As the game continues, you can see at a glance where your particular choices stand in the rotation and when they will be on the court again. The MGM Grand Hotel wants to make every effort to assist your understanding and enjoyment of jai alai. The rotation board should be a big help.

Jai Alai Players Must Play To Win.

WHY?

Players' salaries for the next year depend on their respective performances this year! Wins, places and even shows mean additional prize money and bonuses for players.

Any player who at any time is adjudged dishonest; or thought to be intentionally playing an inferior grade of Jai-Alai; or guilty of breaking training rules; or in any way conducting himself in a manner unbecoming a gentleman, or detrimental to the best interests of Jai-Alai, must be immediately suspended and a report filed with the Nevada State Gaming Commission by the Players'manager.

MGM GRAND HOTEL

GRAND "Q" JACKPOT RULES

1. The Grand "Q" Jackpot pool is operated four successive games each evening, starting with the sixth game and ending with the ninth game.
2. The Grand "Q" is a separate pool, independent of all other pools, such as the Daily Double, Quiniela, Exacta, etc. 18%
3. The normal commission percentage [[redacted]] is deducted from the gross pool-thus creating a net pool.
4. The net pool is then divided as follows: Fifteen percent [15%] is retained for the jackpot and eighty five percent [85%] is paid back to the public each performance. The jackpot portion of the pool is accumulated until such time as one [1] patron wins and exchanges properly, in sequence, all four games of the Grand "Q" Jackpot. When this occurs, the winning patron will collect the net pool of the performance in addition to all of the accumulated jackpot. In the event there is no Jackpot winner, the net pool is paid to the patron or patrons who win and exchange properly, in sequence, the most correct Quinielas of Games 6, 7, 8, 9.
5. In order to participate in the Grand "Q", a patron must do the following:
   A. Purchase a ticket or tickets on the first game of the Grand "Q" [Game 6]. No monies will be exchanged between the patrons and Pari-Mutuel sellers after the initial game of the Grand "Q" Jackpot.
   B. Anyone with the correct Quiniela result on a sixth game ticket must exchange the same for a seventh game ticket before the machines close for the seventh game.
   C. Anyone with the correct Quiniela result on a seventh game ticket must exchange the same for an eighth game ticket before the machines close for the eighth game.
   D. Anyone with the correct Quiniela result on an eighth game ticket must exchange the same for a ninth game ticket before the machines close for the ninth [final] game.
   E. If two or more patrons have the correct Quiniela result on the last game of the Grand "Q" Jackpot, [Game 9], These patrons shall share an equal portion of the net pool of the performance.
   F. If there is only one ticket with the correct Quiniela result on the last game of the Grand "Q" Jackpot, [Game 9], the holder of this ticket will collect the net pool of the performance and also the entire accumulated jackpot total.
   G. In the event no patron or patrons select correctly all four Quinielas, the patron or patrons having an exchange ticket on the preceding game will participate in the consolation payoff of the 85% portion of the net pool.
   H. When the payoff is distributed as in the preceding paragraphs, then the Grand "Q" game is terminated for that performance.
   I. In the event that a patron or patrons fail to exchange a valid ticket or tickets before the machines close, the unexchanged ticket or tickets become invalid.
6. When the accumulated jackpot total reaches $50,000 and no one [1] patron selects all four [4] games correctly, MGM will deduct $10,000 from the accumulated jackpot pool at the end of said performance. MGM will then advertise to the effect that the deducted $10,000 will be given away on a specified performance, probably within a week's time, to the patron or patrons who win and exchange properly, in sequence, the most Quinielas of the Grand "Q" for that night. This $10,000 payoff will be in addition to the regular Grand "Q" payoff of the performance. If the $40,000 remaining in the pool is not won by a Grand "Q" Jackpot winner that evening, the $40,000 will remain in the Jackpot awaiting a lone four [4] game winner. Also, as an added incentive, anyone winning the Grand "Q" Jackpot will be guaranteed $5,000.
7. All totals, public display information, and price computations will be computer controlled.
8. Under Section 26.140 of the Nevada Pari-Mutuel Wagering Law, resale of Pari-Mutuel tickets between individuals is prohibited and constitutes grounds for ejection from the premises wherein Pari-Mutuel wagering or the sporting event is conducted.
